

Director, Academic

The key responsibility of this role is the leadership of the overall academic direction of the society. The successful candidate will ensure that all aspects of the broad academic portfolio continue to develop, by motivating and engaging staff at all levels, communicating proactively, and influencing internal stakeholders and external partners on behalf of various institutes. The person should have below mentioned personal and leadership skills

- Qualification: PHD with a minimum teaching experience of 15 years and holding an administrative post in higher education institution for a minimum period of 5 years.
- Age: Should not be more than 60 years
- Location: Bhopal
- Salary: As per the industry norms
- Essential Skills
 - A strong academic or professional track record gained at an appropriate level in a university.
 - An understanding of the key drivers, decision making and policy environments and future challenges within school and higher education both in India and abroad.
 - A highly developed understanding of current and emerging agendas in Education industry and evidence of personal ability to drive forward innovation and change.
 - A market-focused and analytical approach to academic programme development.
- Desired Skills
 - A well developed understanding of partnership/progression arrangements, and evidence of successful working with external partners.

Candidates who are interested should email their detailed career profile via e-mail to careers@jsws.org.in